A similarity between the records of the remote spiritual, mental-induction experiments and inducing actions of Laminine, for the same type of detectors, has been revealed during the experiments in 2017. As the detectors, SEVA and DITA™ instruments, by Applied PhysTech Research Laboratory, APTL, New York, were employed [1,2]. The spiritual mental induction experiments were conducted by Institute for Scientific Research in Cosmic Anthropoecology, ISRICA, City of Novosibirsk, Russia, [3].

The experiments were based on psychic procedures done by a group of special participants inside the Kozyrev's Mirrors - an advanced setup of the PsychoPhysics [4].

Applied Phystech Research Laboratory, APTL, remotely (in New York, Brooklyn) monitored ISRICA sessions in Novosibirsk within June-December 2017 with SEVA and DITA™ instruments, which were employing special address linkage with the objects of the monitoring [5].

Comparison between ISRICA-APTL experiments and the recently conducted joint APTL and BG Metrix experiments on the influence of Laminine on same instruments has revealed some similarity in the influence of remote prayers and meditations on a property of water, employed as the info-detector in DITA™, as well as the influence of the same actions on the integrated Field Gyroscope measured by SEVA.

Fig.1 shows a record of the variations of the amplitude of the localized field spinning (the Field Gyroscope) in immediate vicinity of a person who took 2 Laminine capsules inside.

Fig.2. shows a QSS -record of the December 22nd 2017 ISRICA – APTL experiment, when the remote meditation in Novosibirsk was monitored with SEVA, having a special info-linkage in its immediate vicinity [5]. The thin vertical line marks a beginning of the meditation in Kozyrev’s Mirrors in Novosibirsk.

Fig. 4 shows the DITA™ record of temperature variations in water, having an image of the info-linkage next to it, related to ISRICA remote meditation session of October 2017 [5], The meditation was conducted some time after the official start of the experiments marked with the thin vertical line

The comparison shows a qualitative similarity in the dynamics of the experiments, while the remote experiment with Novosibirsk (9260 km from New York) has a pure mental-spiritual nature, and the New York experiment with Laminine included no mental procedures. This allows us to suppose the Subtle Filed identity of both the experiments and some spiritual potential of Laminine.
