The conventional mosaic has an increasing tendency to the norm. Where the sociopathic norm is a cloud-atlas mosaic of academic and humanitarian atypical decision-makers involve in both academic and humanitarian fraud.

Cult-figures that manifests as a bee-hive but are intellectually and financially differential. Their endeavors and projects can be seen as the cult-generator of ideas and information that feeds into a pathological-following.

Which this cult-following can mature into a pathological mass-movement of control freaks and thugs that knows no bounds. The sociopathic norm is an unprecedented cult of the Scientific Age -- that is, a byproduct of the information age (at the dawn of the Windows XP revolution). That has cause world-wide havoc by resorting to fraudulent and dishonest means to further and sustain their fame and fortune.

While manifesting as a benign colony of academics and humanitarians, their trickery lies in the manner in which they structure their thought processes on the world-wide web and in the media. They are nevertheless a mentality of the herd that is prone to absurd criminality.

Yet psychotics which present themselves as not out of the ordinary. A crime ring -- that within the world-wide web, group their information profiles into differential profiles. Where clueless clues and antisocial information (in the form of fraudulent research and humanitarianism that is more than presented as genuine scholarship and/or substantiated financial analysis).

Whether or not as a Freudian slip or intentional, is indicative of a psychopathology. More than likely, design to lure and provoke their readership and/or benefactors into a pathological mass-movement.

Amongst each other -- as scattered as they are, pursue their own projects and endeavors. But share similar cognitive processes (especially cognitive-behavioral motives of criminal absurdity).

A norm-collective that is difficult to spot. But when spotted manifests as a messianic movement of differential intellectuals and academics of atypical decision-making. A cloud-atlas mosaic that initially arose as a tendency to the norm. Yet has become an unprecedented crime-ring of cult-figures. Cult-figures which has generated a world-wide cult-following, i.e., a pathological mass-movement, of control freaks and thugs (in an attempt to further and sustain their fame and fortune by dishonest and fraudulent means).
