

The electromagnetic waves get less oscillations and more wavelength when they undergo the effect of gravitation thus losing energy