Abstract

We continue to consult the Ekagi-Dutch-English-Indonesian Dictionary by J. Steltenpool. Here we count all the Ekagi entries initiating with a letter. We draw the natural logarithm of the number of entries, normalised, starting with a letter vs the natural logarithm of the rank of the letter. We find that the entries underlie a magnetisation curve. The magnetisation curve i.e. the graph of the reduced magnetisation vs the reduced temperature is the exact Onsager solution of the two dimensional Ising model in the the absence of external magnetic field.

I. INTRODUCTION

In one fine morning, one gets up and finds oneself among a set of people talking kukugu tai, dugu tai, pokoi kai, topuu tai, tubu kai, ..., uttering words all ending in a vowel, one should be sure that one is in the midst of the Ekagis. The Ekagi language is spoken by around sixty thousand people in the Western New Guinea. The alphabet is composed of fifteen letters. In the Ekagi language, Konaijo means beard, moustache, kowai-a means to dry, gowai means recitative song, momoo means small peice of pork, momogo tai means to turn around, naama means uncle, naida means dining table, noni means wood caterpillar, pija means wood, taka means wooden fork, tobe-tobe means neatly dressed, tobino means clump, tito means buoy in water, tikii means flame, tumi is a kind of banana, waani means a kind of song, wani tai means to perform a kind of song, muti means price, mukaa means lemon, maumi means stone axe, mawai means chopping knife, mukai-a means to roll out, mana means language, me means man, Ekagi means the real man, me mana means the Ekagi language, mitei means grain, mátabo tai means to plant again, oopu means wind and so on and so forth. In this article, we continue to study magnetic field pattern, behind the Ekagi language, here all Ekagi entries of the Ekagi-Dutch-English-Indonesian Dictionary by J. Steltenpool, [1].

We have started considering magnetic field pattern in [2], in the languages we converse with. We have studied there, a set of natural languages, [2] and have found existence of a magnetisation curve under each language. We have termed this phenomenon as graphical law. Then, we moved on to investigate into, [3], dictionaries of five disciplines of knowledge and found existence of a curve magnetisation under each discipline. This was followed by finding of the graphical law behind the bengali language,[4] and the basque language[5]. This was pursued by finding of the graphical law behind the Romanian language, [6], five more disciplines of knowledge, [7], Onsager core of Abor-Miri, Mising languages,[8], Onsager Core of Romanised Bengali language,[9], the graphical law behind the Little Oxford English Dictionary, [10], the Oxford Dictionary of Social Work and Social Care, [11], the Visayan-English Dictionary, [12], Garo to English School Dictionary, [13], Mursi-English-Amharic Dictionary, [14] and Names of Minor Planets, [15], A Dictionary of Tibetan and English, [16], Khasi English Dictionary, [17], Turkmen-English Dictionary, [18], Websters Universal Spanish-English Dictionary, [19], A Dictionary of Modern Italian, [20], Langenscheidt's Steltenpool and the Onsager's solution, [38], behind A Dictionary Of Plant Sciences by Michael Allaby, [39], respectively.

The planning of the paper is as follows. We give an introduction to the curve of magnetisation of Ising model in the section II. In the section III, we describe the graphical law analysis of the entries of the Ekagi-Dutch-English-Indonesian Dictionary, [1]. Section IV is Acknowledgment. The last section is the Bibliography.

II. MAGNETISATION

The two dimensional Ising model, [40], in the absence of external magnetic field is prototype of an Ising model. In case of square lattice of planar spins, one spin interacts with four other nearest neighbour spins i.e. on an average to another one spin. Below a certain ambient temperature, denoted as  $T_c$ , the two dimensional array of spins reduces to a planar magnet with magnetic moment per site varying as a function of  $\frac{T}{T_c}$ . This function was inferred, [46], by Lars Onsager way back in 1948 and thoroughly deduced thereafter by C.N.Yang, [49]. This function we are referring to as Onsager solution. Moreover, systems, [47], showing behaviour like Onsager solution is rare to come across. Graphically, the Onsager solution appears as in fig.1.

To have a comprehension, let us imagine an arbitrary lattice, with each up spin assigned a

FIG. 1. Reduced magnetisation vs reduced temperature curves for exact solution of two dimensional Ising model, due to Onsager, in the the absence of external magnetic field value one and a down spin a value minus one, with an unspecified long-range order parameter defined as above by  $L = \frac{1}{N}\sum_i\sigma_i$ , where  $\sigma_i$  is i-th spin, N being total number of spins. L can vary from minus one to one.  $N = N_+ + N_-$ , where  $N_+$  is the number of up spins,  $N_-$  is the number of down spins.  $L = \frac{1}{N}(N_+ - N_-)$ . As a result,  $N_+ = \frac{N}{2}(1 + L)$  and  $N_- = \frac{N}{2}(1 - L)$ . Magnetisation or, net magnetic moment ,  $M$  is  $\mu\sum_i\sigma_i$  or,  $\mu(N_+ - N_-)$  or,  $\mu NL$ ,  $M_{max} = \mu N$ .  $\frac{M}{M_{max}} = L$ .  $\frac{M}{M_{max}}$  is referred to as reduced magnetisation. Moreover, the Ising Hamiltonian,[40], for the lattice of spins, setting  $\mu$  to one, is  $-\epsilon\sum_{n,n}\sigma_i\sigma_j - H\sum_i\sigma_i$ , where n.n refers to nearest neighbour pairs.

At a temperature T, below a certain temperature called phase transition temperature,  $T_c$ , for the two dimensional Ising model in the absence of external magnetic field i.e. for H equal to zero, the exact, unapproximated, Onsager solution gives reduced magnetisation as a function of reduced temperature as, [46], [48], [49], [45],

$$\frac{M}{M_{max}} = [1 - (\sinh \frac{0.8813736}{\frac{T}{T_c}})^{-4}]^{1/8}.$$ and appears as in fig.1.

III. ANALYSIS OF ENTRIES OF THE EKAGI-DUTCH-ENGLISH-INDONESIAN DICTIONARY BY J. STELTENPOOL

The Ekagi language alphabet is composed of fifteen letters. We count all the entries, [1], one by one from the beginning to the end, starting with different letters. We have counted the headwords which appear starting with different letters in a section belonging to a particular letter in our previous paper, [38]. Here, we count all entries. Here we include also the sentences. The result is the table, I. To clarify, we have counted all entries initiating with the letter A, in their proper positions, from the section for the letter A. The number is five hundred sixty five. Second, we have enlisted all entries initiating with the letter A which has not appeared in their proper positions in the section belonging to A and all entries beginning with the letter A from the sections for the letters B, D,..W. Then we have removed from the list entries already appearing in the section belonging to A, in their proper positions. Then we have counted the number of the entries in that list. The number is three hundred eighty five. As a result total number of words beginning with the letter A is nine hundred fifty. This exercise was then followed for the letters B, D,...W. The result is the table, I.

Highest number of entries, one thousand forty two, starts with the letter K followed by entries numbering nine hundred fifty beginning with A, nine hundred thirty three with the letter E etc. To visualise the pattern of change of number of entries along the the letters initiating with, we draw the number of entries vs. sequence number of the respective letters in the fig.2.

For the purpose of exploring graphical law, we assort the letters according to the number of entries, in the descending order, denoted by  $f$  and the respective rank, denoted by  $k$ , [50]. Moreover, we attach a limiting rank,  $k_{lim}$ , and a limiting number of entries. The limiting rank is maximum rank plus one, denoted as  $k_{lim}$  or,  $k_d$ . Here it is fifteen and the limiting number of entries is one. As a result,  $k$  is a positive integer starting from one and both  $\frac{\ln f}{\ln f_{max}}$  and  $\frac{\ln k}{\ln k_{lim}}$  varies from zero to one. Then we tabulate in the adjoining table, II and plot  $\frac{\ln f}{\ln f_{max}}$  against  $\frac{\ln k}{\ln k_{lim}}$  in the figure fig.3. We then ignore the letter with the highest number of entries, tabulate in the adjoining table, II and redo the plot, normalising the  $\ln f$ s with next-to-maximum  $\ln f_{nextmax}$ , and starting from  $k = 2$  in the figure fig.4. This program then we repeat up to  $k = 3$ , resulting in figures up to fig.5.

FIG. 2. The vertical axis is number of entries of the Ekagi language and the the horizontal axis is the respective letters of the Ekagi alphabet. Letters are represented by the sequence number in the English alphabet beginning with A.

A. conclusion

From the figures (fig.3-fig.5), we observe that the entries of the Ekagi language, [1], underlies the Onsager solution.

Moreover, the associated correspondence is,

$$\frac{\ln f}{\ln f_{n-max}} \longleftrightarrow \frac{M}{M_{max}},$$
$$\ln k \longleftrightarrow T.$$

$k$  corresponds to temperature in an exponential scale, [51].
